Acteva Announces Release of Register with Purchase Order Feature
New Feature Benefits Organizers with Specific Internal Payment Requirements

SAN FRANCISCO – July 10, 2006

Acteva, the leader in online event registration and payments, today announced the availability of a new feature, Register with Purchase Order. Available as a Selectable Feature for Acteva Plus customers, it provides event organizers with the ability to accept pending registrations for those registrants who are required to pay via purchase order.

"This new capability fills a critical need for certain customers," says Ed Lemire, Vice President of Marketing for Acteva. "Event registrants can still register for their event online and the registration will remain in a 'pending' purchase order status until the organizer marks it as complete – such as when the PO is received or when payment is complete."

The need for this feature arose because some organizations require an approved purchase order for expenditures above a pre-defined limit. Without the ability to register and then submit the purchase order separately, these users would not be able to register online. "This feature is most helpful in situations where registrants cannot use their credit card due to their company's internal cost control policies and instead must get approval for expenditures via purchase order," says Lemire. "We now provide a solution for these situations so registrants can make payments."
